1966 FLYER

Franklin County High School
Frankfort, Kentucky

FOREWORD

We, the 1966 FLYER staff, hope that this annual will become one of your prized possessions and that you may look back over the faded snapshots and remember the good old days at F.C.H.S.

In later years, while turning these pages, if you should recall the important game you wanted so much to win, your first school dance, the thrill of being a senior, the many smiles and sorrows, and at last the wonderful feeling of accomplishment when that coveted diploma is placed in your hand, we shall be content, knowing that we have done the thing we were called upon to do.

Realizing that the key to success is enthusiasm, we have all wholeheartedly joined in an effort to make this Flyer one of the best ever. We feel that your satisfaction with this volume is our compensation, and with this thought we proudly give you the 1965-1966 FLYER.

Greg Marshall, Editor

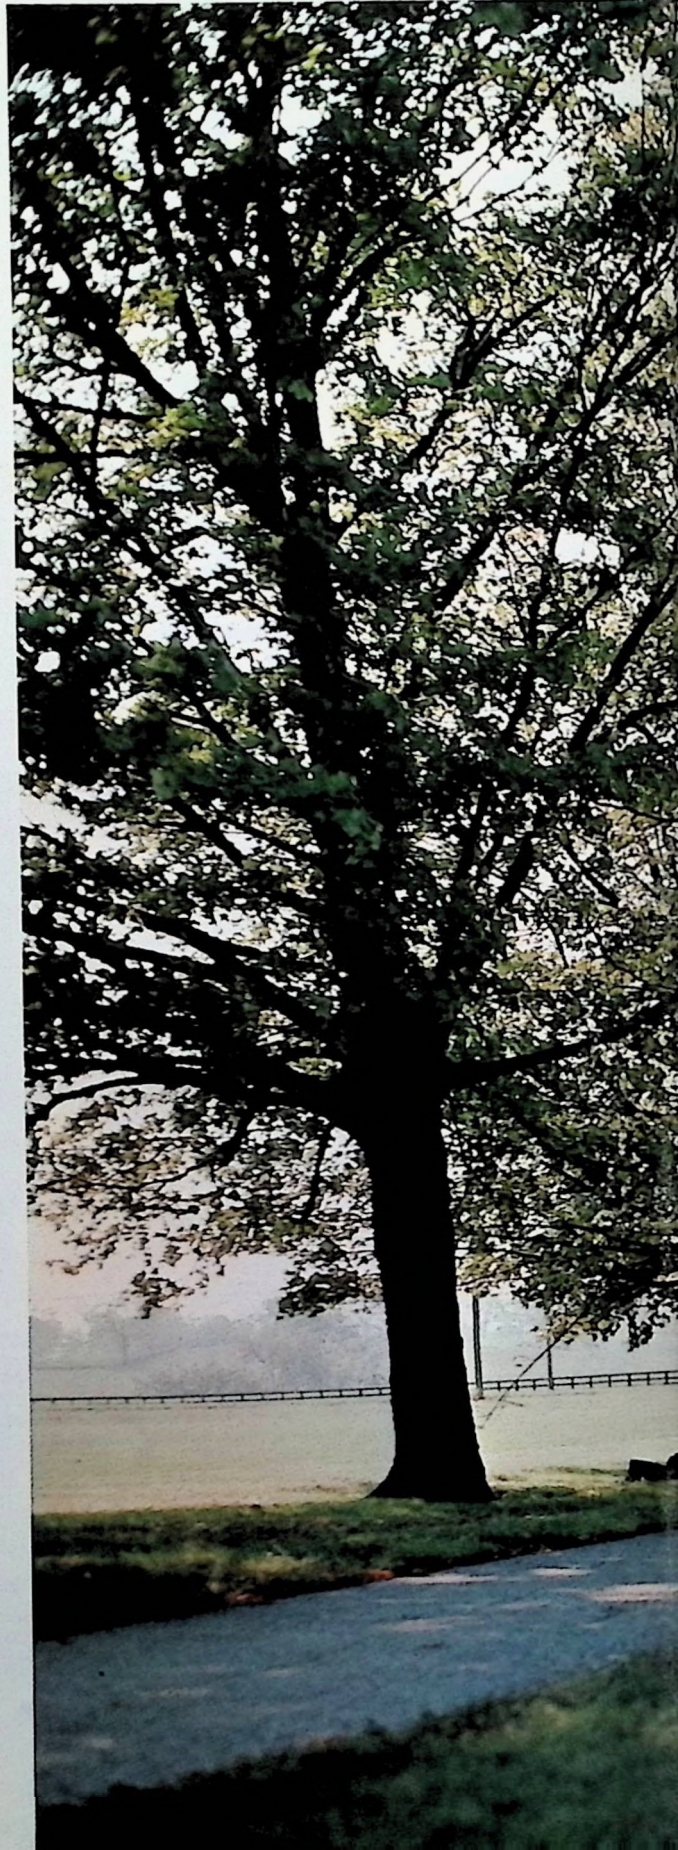

A PRAYER

Bless thou, O Lord, the avenues
We tread from day to day.
Be ever mindful of our needs
And teach us how to pray.

Help us to make our avenues
Be always straight and fair
And lead to that eternal home
Where Joy reigneth there.

Be thou our guide and teacher, too,
And lead us all aright
Until our paths on earth shall lead
To avenues of light.

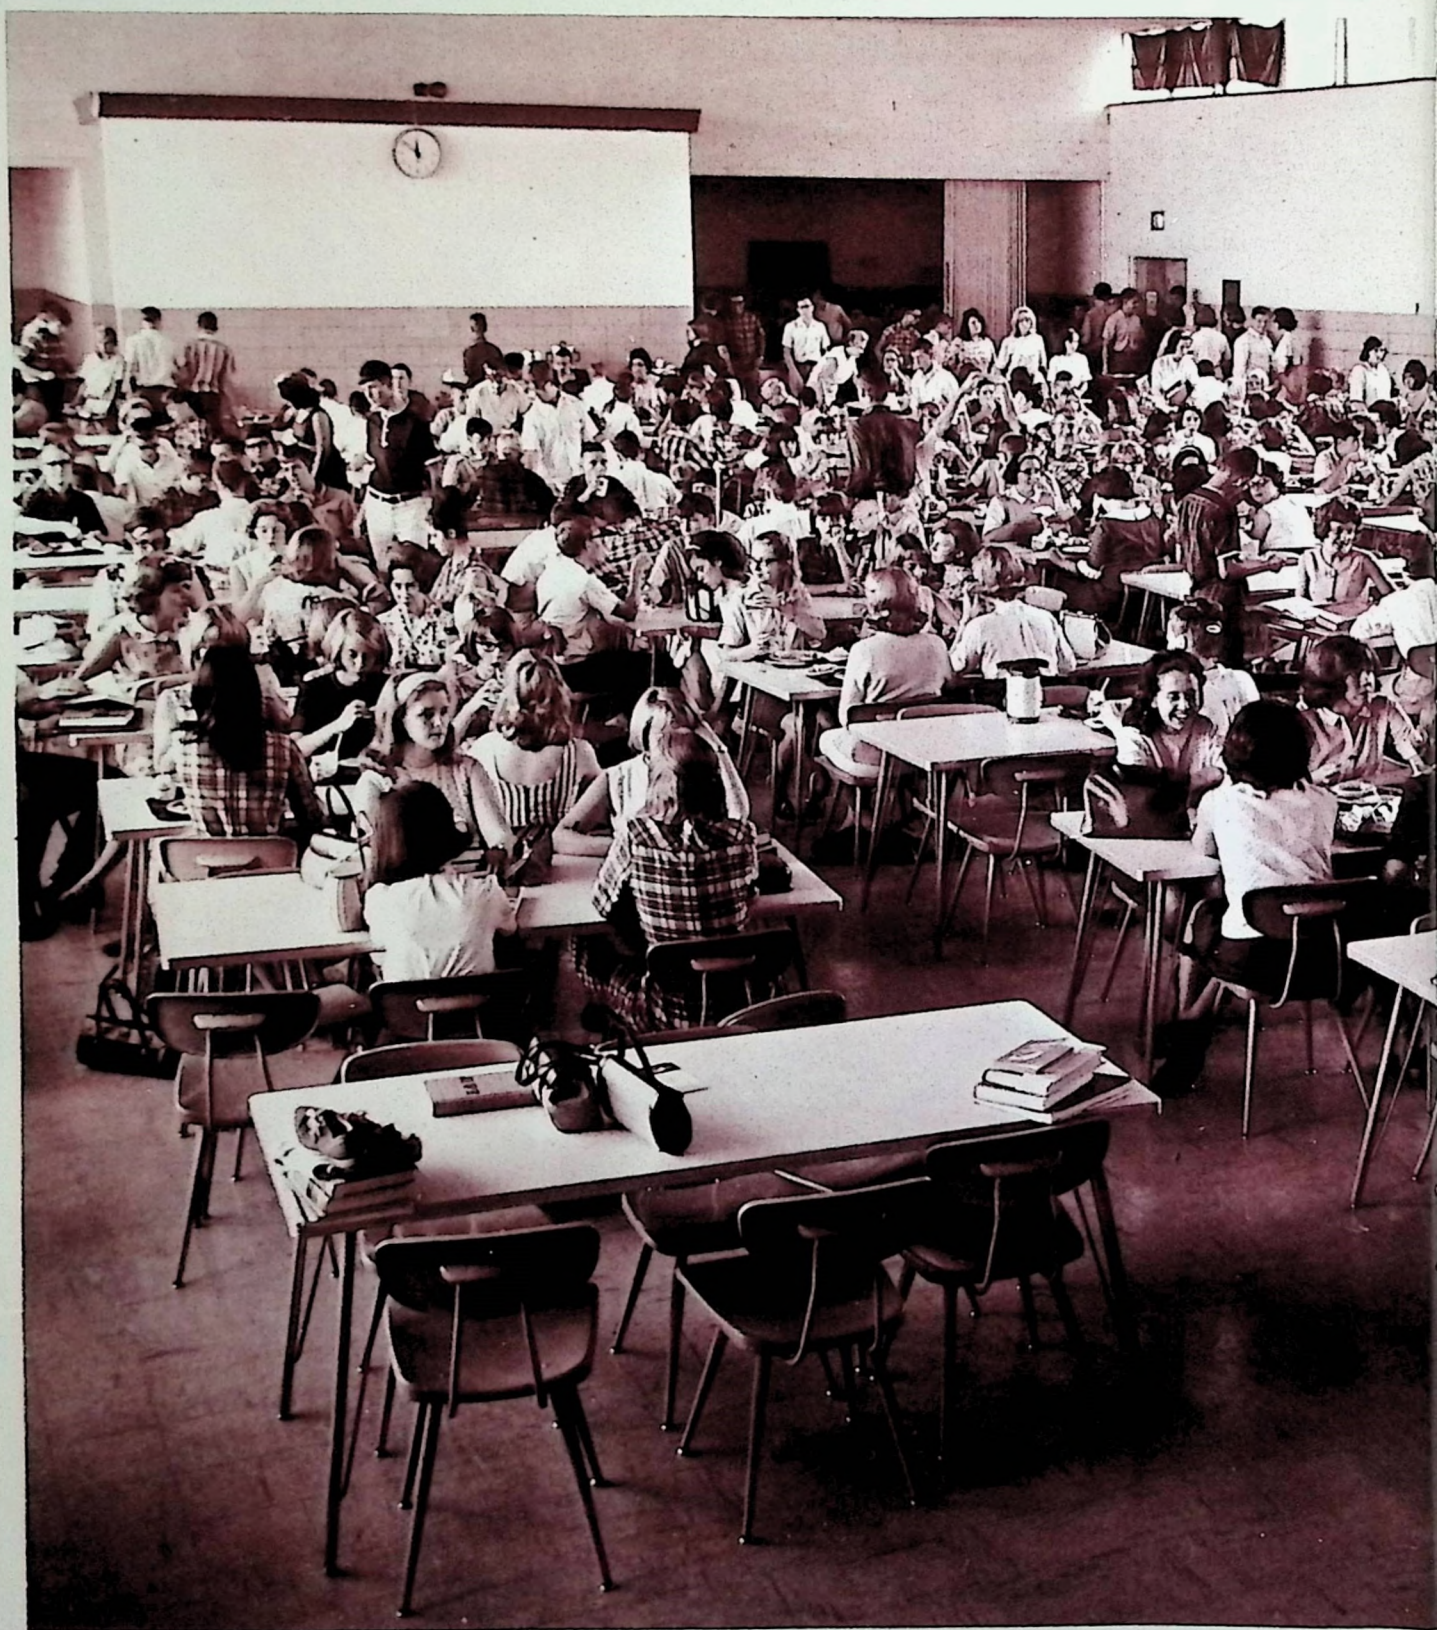

Vivian Moore

AVENUES OF LIFE

Avenues of Fellowship

Fellowship is a watchword at F.C.H.S. Students enjoy the short breaks in class routine and welcome the opportunity to meet with friends.

Each Contributes His Own

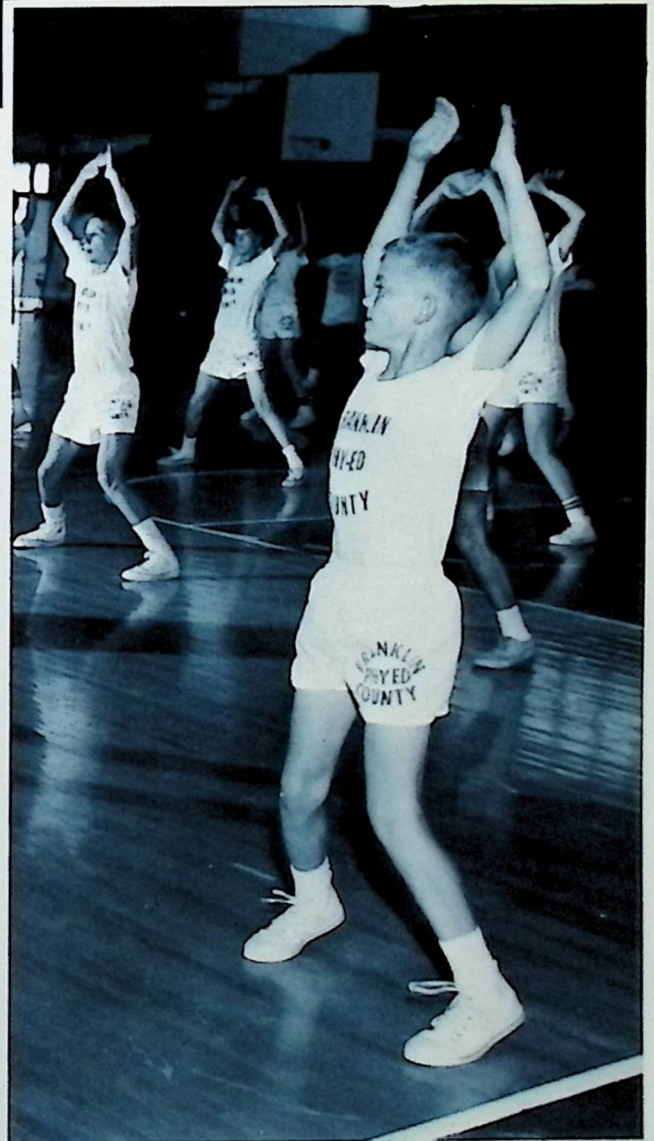

Knowledge is not a memorization of facts, but a relation of facts and ideas to life and its problems. There is a place for every student to excel through the wide choice of courses offered at F.C.H.S.

Avenues of Knowledge

Avenues of Faith

There is an avenue of faith for every Franklin County student. Each one lives his own creed and respects the creeds of others. Many are active in local churches; others contribute to religious programs and activities at school.

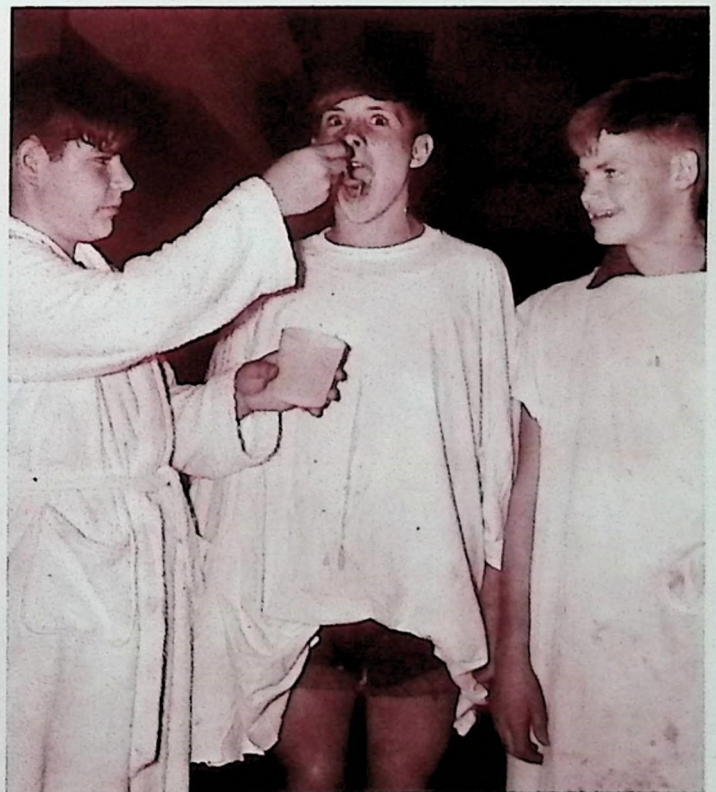

Avenues of Friendship

F.C.H.S. students can always be found representing their school through outside activities. Some are for fun, some to arouse school spirit, and some to raise money for worthy causes.

Not all student activities are connected with the school. Friends meet for fun and fellowship wherever and whenever they can.

ADMIN

ISTRATION

Superintendent

Mr. Roy Bondurant, superintendent, co-ordinates the work of all Franklin County schools. Although faced with many problems of over-crowded classrooms, he is always interested in the problems of both teachers and students.

Ronald Connelly, Supervisor

Charles Terry, Director of Pupil Personnel

Charles Barrett, Supervisor

Supervisors and Board of Education

Mr. Bondurant and the Board of Education

Principal

Mr. Moore, the principal of Franklin County High School, works in many ways to make our school one of the best ones anywhere. Here he is seen leaving the school after a busy day.

Assistant Principal

Mr. John Underwood, our Assistant Principal, is a very capable administrator and serves as a coordinator of many activities in our school. He is always ready to help students in any capacity.

Secretaries

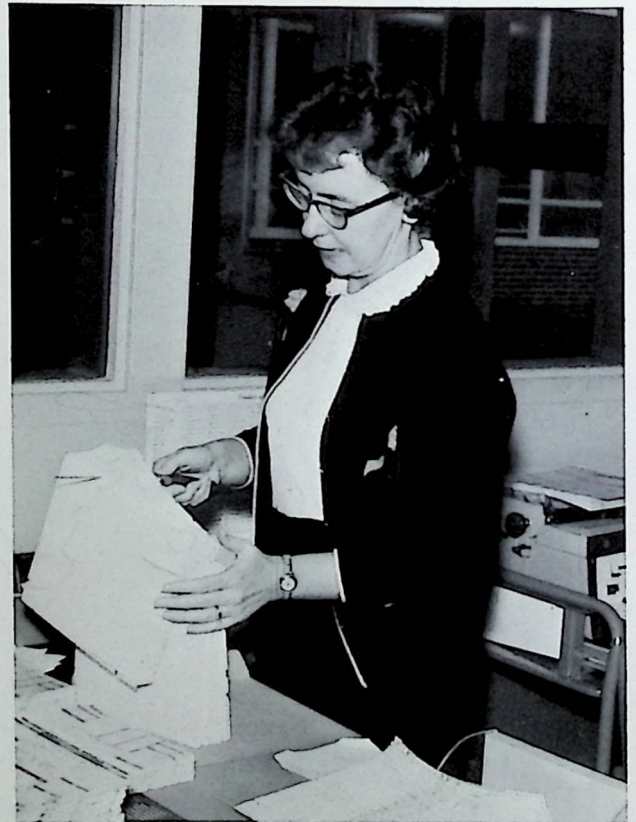

Mrs. Leathers looks happy. She must be counting Mr. Moore's money.

The secretaries are always ready to help students in any way: from finding lost notebooks to tracking down lost students. Mrs. Leathers is bookkeeper and secretary to Mr. Moore. Mrs. Mitchell is records clerk and secretary to Mr. Underwood. To run errands and do extra typing, several students work in the office each day.

"What could be in that letter?" Gail Bolton wonders as she puts some mail in Mrs. Colvin's mailbox.

Mrs. Mitchell organizes student enrollment cards.

Guidance Counselors

LOUISE C. SWITZER
A.B., Georgetown College
M.A., University of Kentucky

Mrs. Switzer, our energetic counselor, is always ready to aid students in any capacity. In addition to being a guidance counselor Mrs. Switzer also serves as our Student Council advisor.

MEREDITH M. BARKER
B.S., Ball State University
M.E., University of Louisville

Mrs. Barker, a very capable guidance counselor, is very helpful to students in many ways and especially in assisting them with college plans.

The Library

Mrs. Gill shows Cole Younger how to use the magazine file.

MILDRED L. GILL
A.B., Berea College; M.S., University of Kentucky; Librarian

The library is a place for study and research. Many students use the library each day for information, inspiration, and enjoyment.

Mrs. Slattery puts back on the shelves books that students have returned.

RUTH SLATTERY
Assistant to the Librarian

Helpers

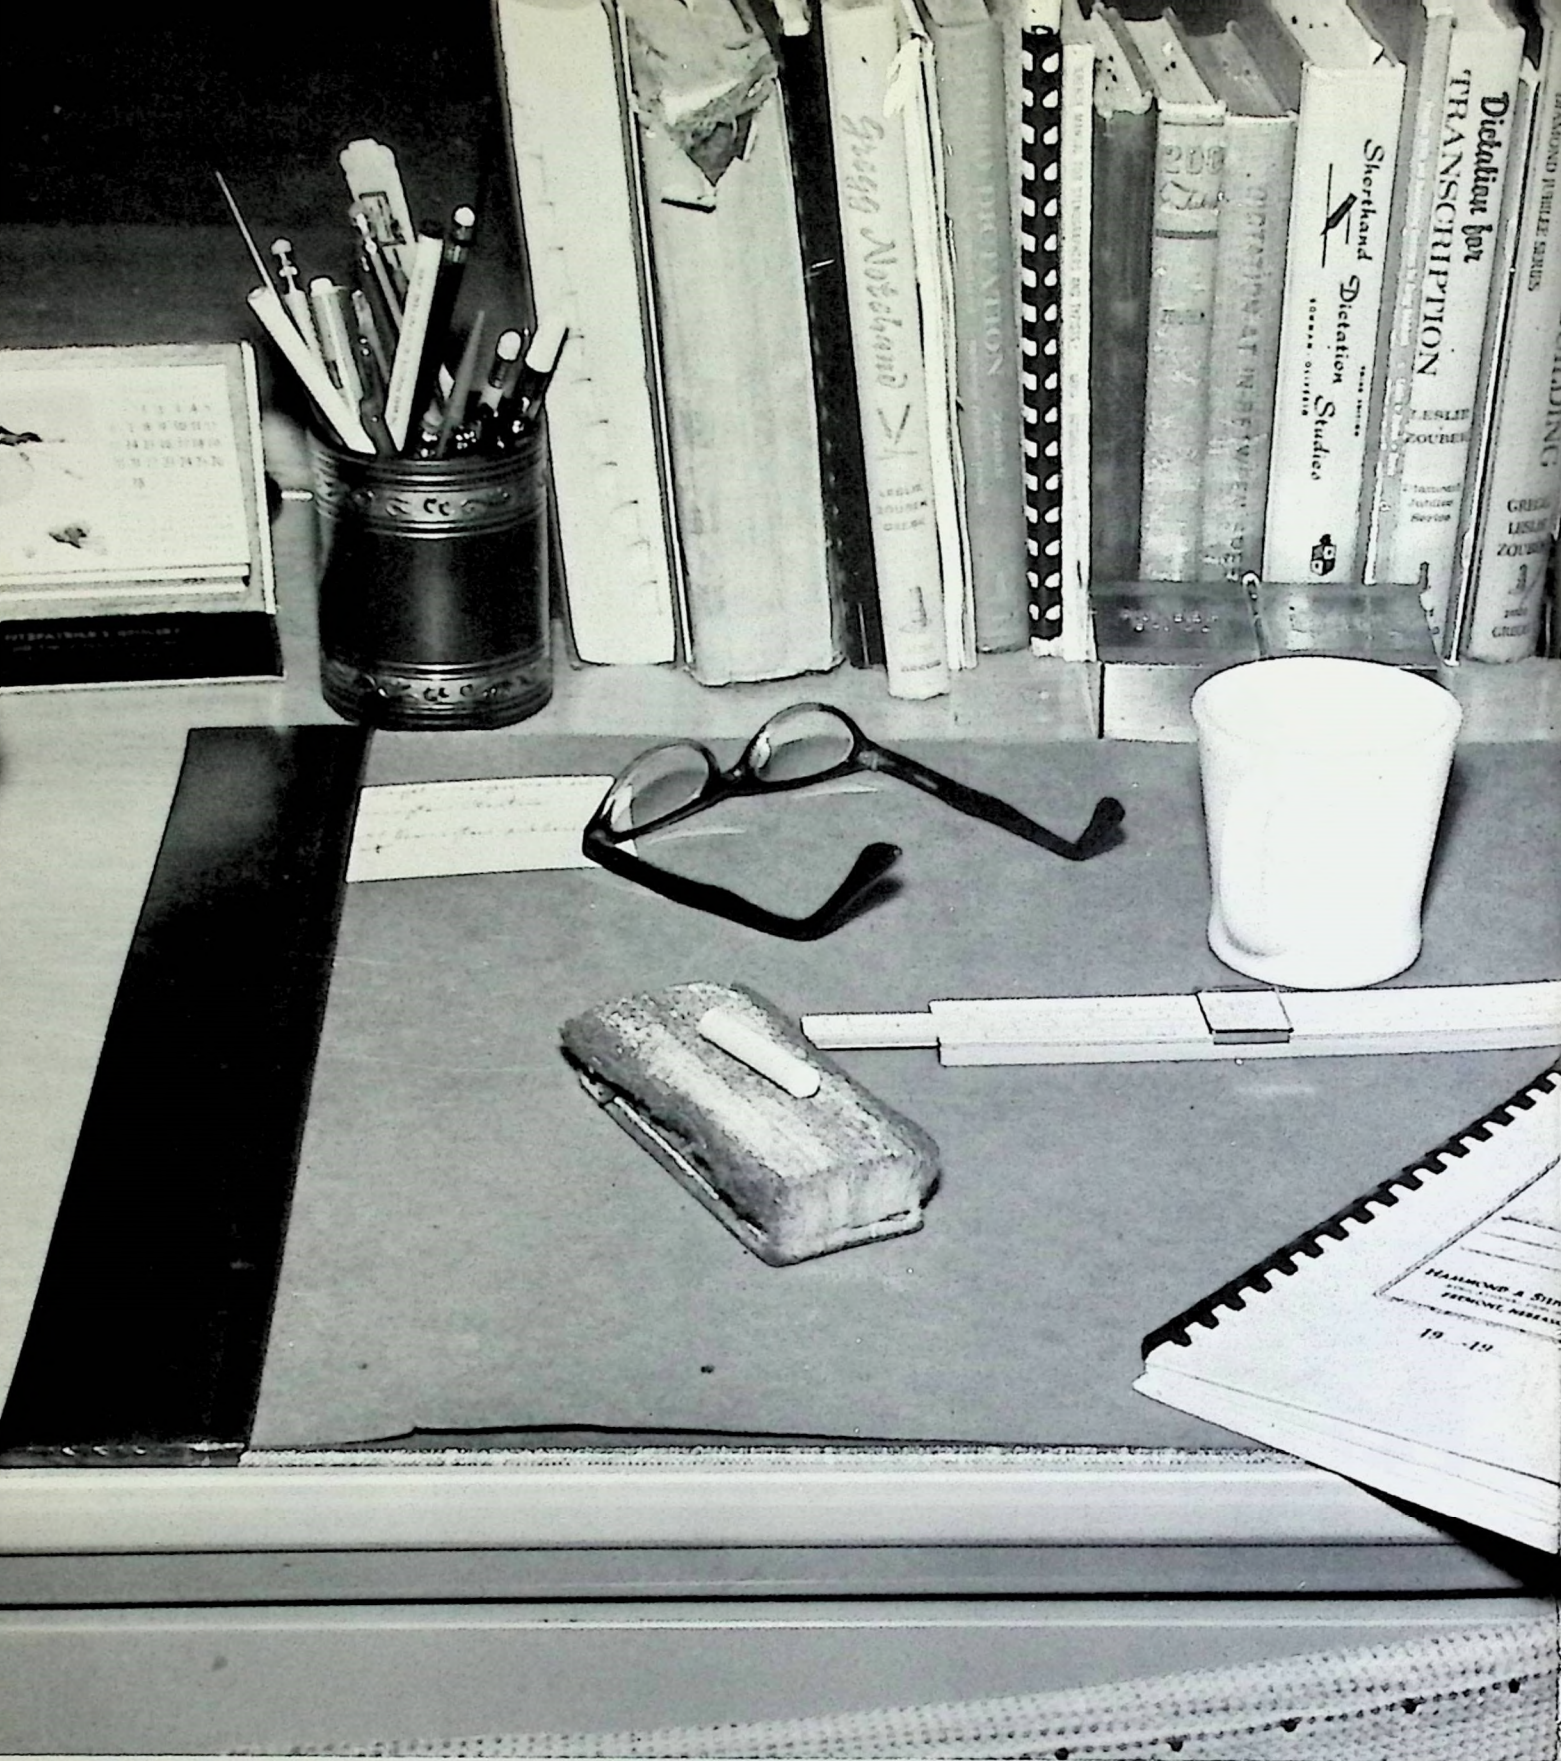

Many people help to make student life at Franklin County more pleasant.

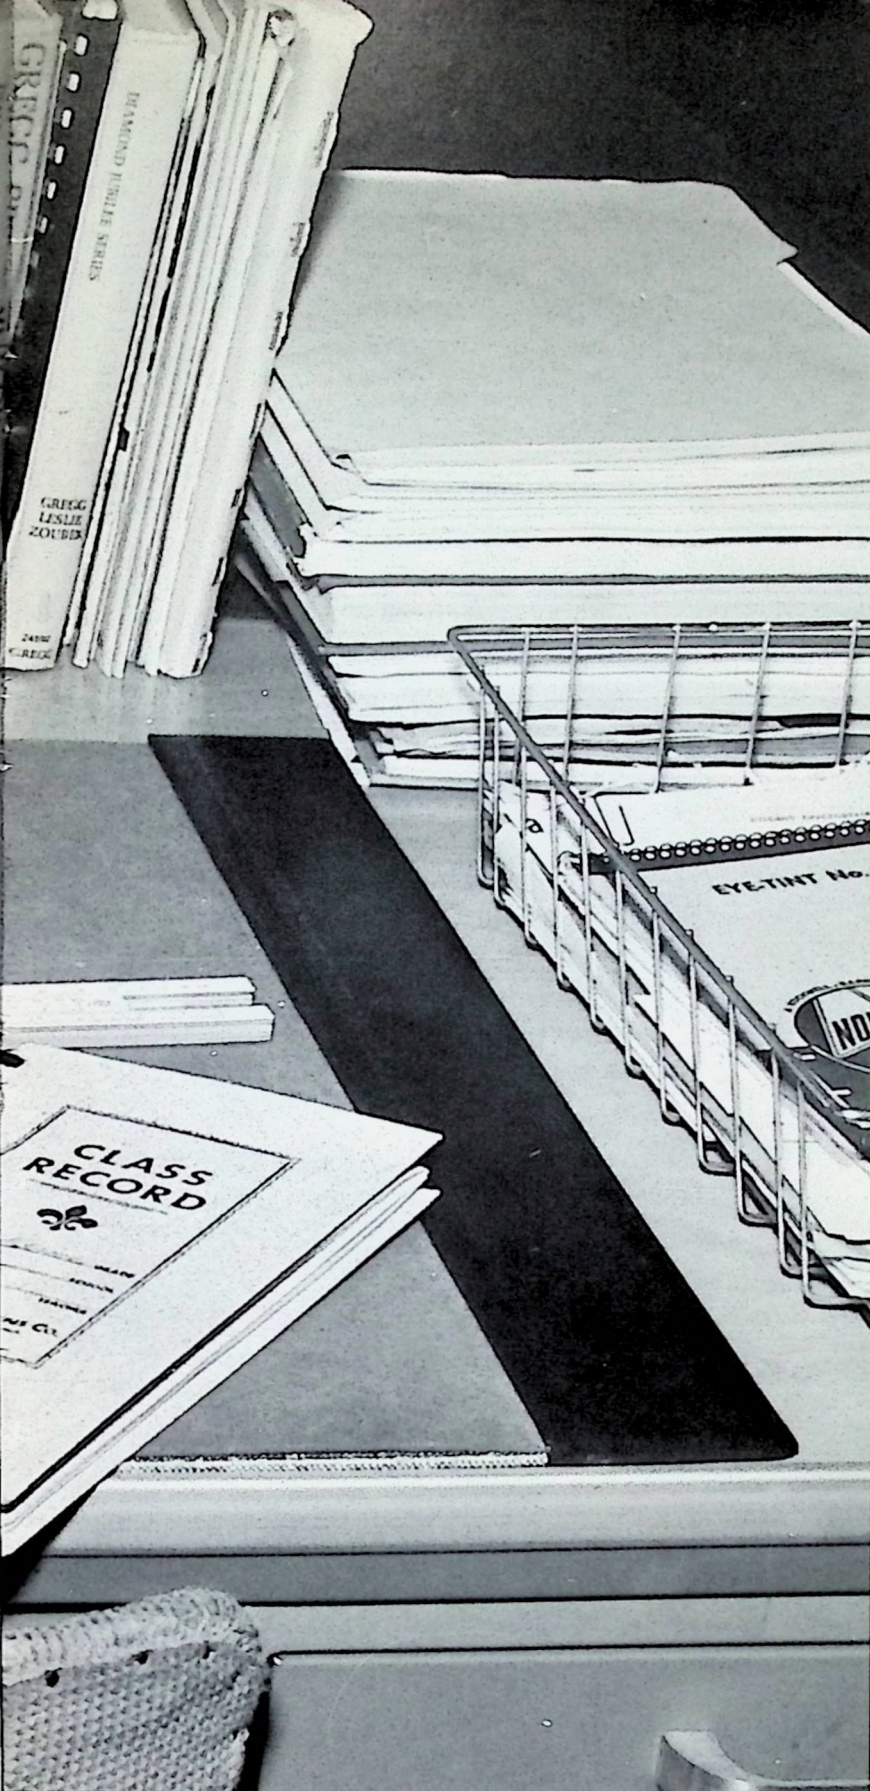

The cooks are especially important in this respect.

Mrs. Gaines is always willing to help students at the school bookstore.

Bus drivers, janitors, lunch-room workers, and Gray Ladies also work to keep FCHS on the right road going in the right direction.

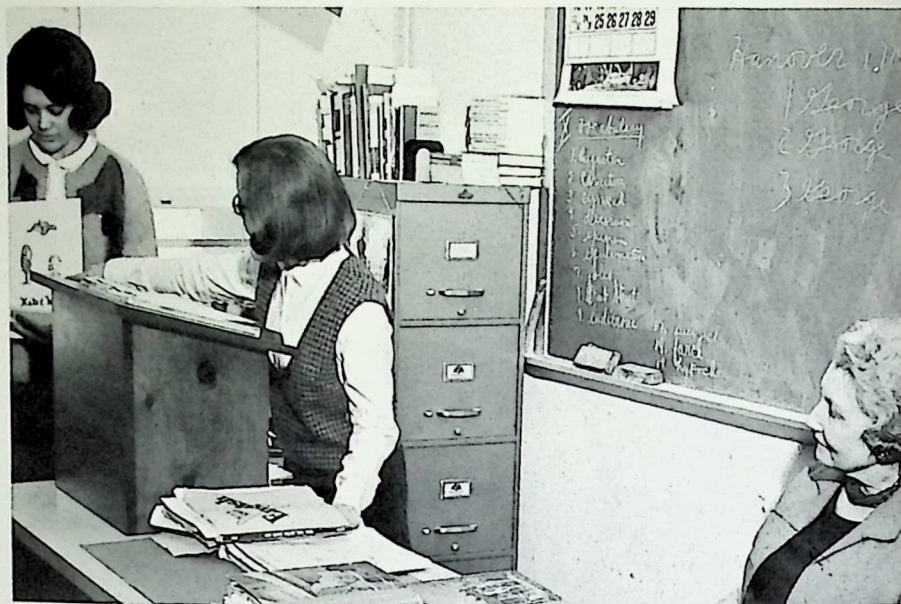

FACULTY

English

*In a nice student and a sweet girl
I wish a picture of happiness and success. I hope you will decide to be a teacher. My interest will be with you always, Essie Colvin*

ESSIE COLVIN
A.B., University of Kentucky
English III and IV

Mrs. Colvin watches Carol Parrish and Susan Lewis give a class report on 18th century fashions as a supplement to English literature class.

New worlds of adventure, expression, and communication open through Franklin County English classes. Grammar teaches the basic mechanics of expression. Literature: poetry, short stories, essays, and novels are pathways to the thoughts and ideas of other persons. Composition offers a means of self-expression for the student.

"Words are interesting!" Miss Moore shows Janet Wood and Everett Roberts how to find word histories in the dictionary.

HELEN VAN CUREN
B.S., M.A., Oklahoma State University
English II, Journalism

VIVIAN C. MOORE
A.B., Eastern, M. A. University

"Words are interesting!"
Oh, she certainly enjoyed knowing you and having you in homeroom. You were a big help to me. I hope you make a fine young teacher. Good luck, Vivian C. Moore*

Pathways of Expression

Mrs. Van Curon gives personal attention to Buddy Eastman in her sophomore English class.

Miss McCoy enjoys literature with her students.

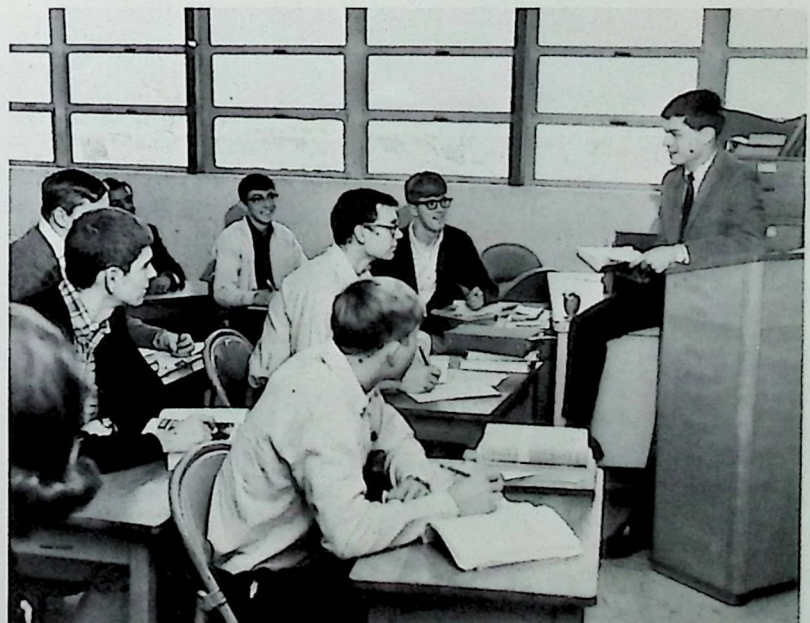

The regular English curriculum is supplemented with speech and journalism classes. Speech classes emphasize personal composure before a group. Journalism classes get first hand experience as they publish the school page, The Falcon, each Thursday in the local paper.

CHRISTINE C. McCOY
AB., M.A., University of Kentucky
English III

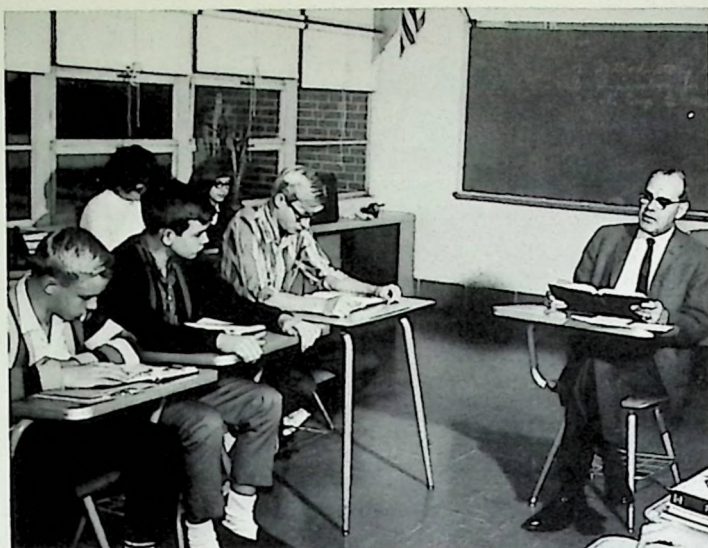

TOM SMOOT
A.B., Georgetown College
Speech

Mr. Smoot's speech classes are often a relaxing interlude in a busy day.

CORBETT B. FRANKLIN
A.B., Olivet College
English I and II

Class participation is Mr. Franklin's favorite teaching method.

Mrs. Jones, a graduate of Morehead State College, enjoys oral reading in her freshman English classes.

Sentence structure is basic to the understanding of English. Mrs. Kemper shows Ann Farmer how to diagram.

RUTH ANNE KEMPER
A.B., Morehead State College
English I and II

A study of Tennyson's Idylls of the King is one of the most enjoyable parts of Mrs. Guess's English class.

BETTY A. GUESS
A.B., Western Kentucky State College
English I and II.

WARREN STANLEY
A.B. Georgetown College
English I and II, Civics

Learning can be fun—especially in Mr. Stanley's class.

Miss Poff uses the record player to help her students better appreciate American literature.

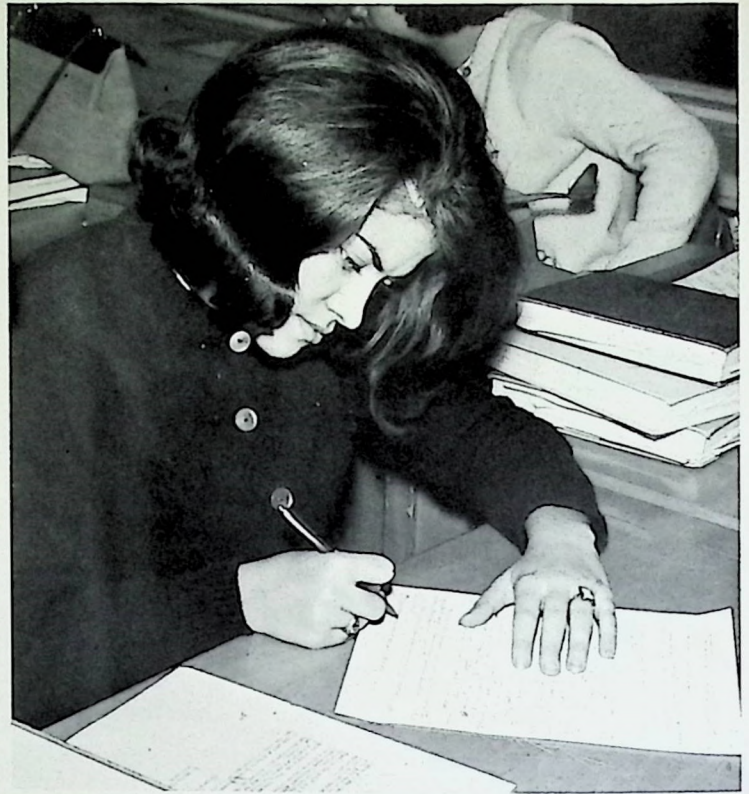

DOROTHY POFF
B.S. Union College, M.A. UK
English I and III

Commerce

"They might not need me; but they might.
I'll let my head be just in sight;
A smile as small as mine might be Precisely their necessity."

Training for the Future

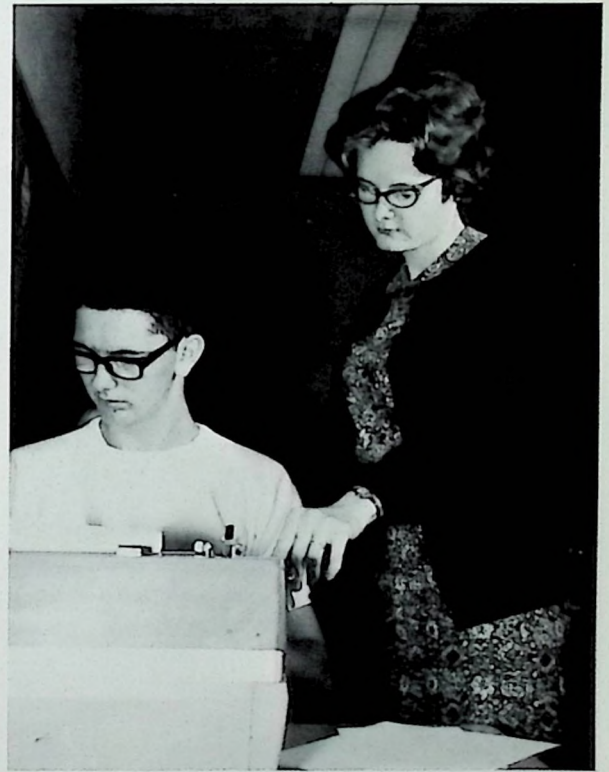

Mrs. Moore uses the new dictation machine. Looks like a radio announcer doesn't she?

Business and vocational office education programs are designed to prepare students for career positions in the field of business. Four curricula are offered: (1) General Clerical, (2) Junior Management, (3) Stenographic-Secretarial, and (4) Accounting-Secretarial. A part-time work program is arranged for the senior students desiring it. All commercial students must choose a career objective and follow its special curriculum.

Mrs. Karsner uses one of the new office machines used in Office Practice Class.

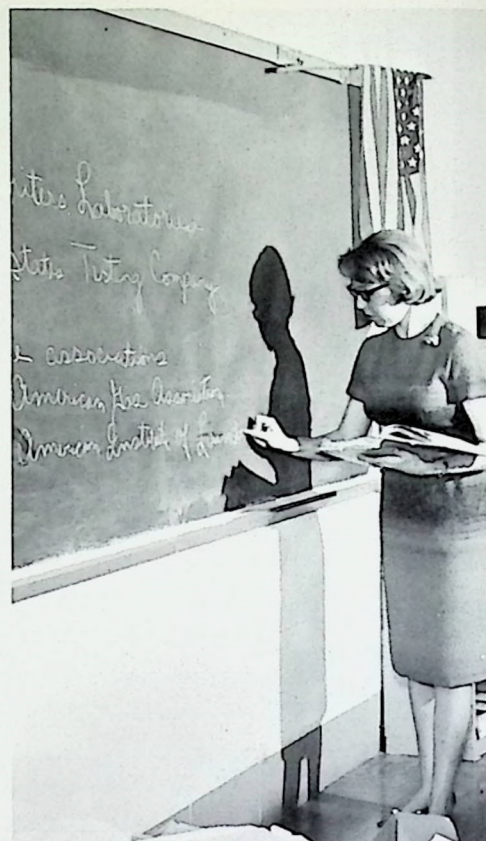

"Don't look at the keyboard, Pat!" cautions Mrs. Black.

ELTON BRUNTY
B.A., Furman University
Business Math
Business Law

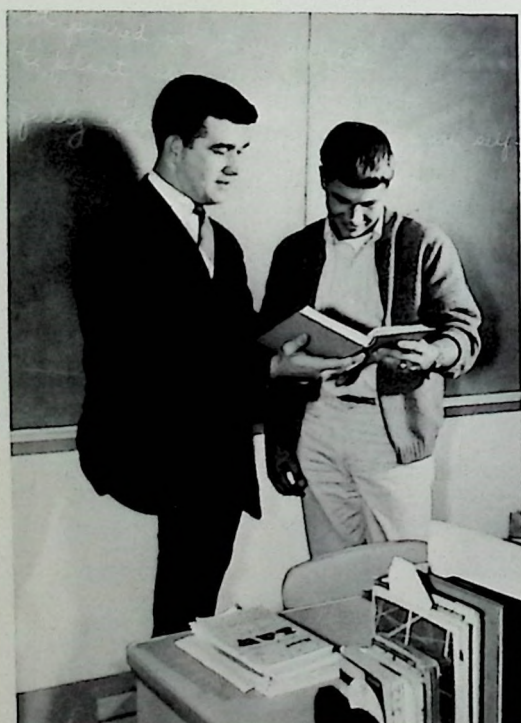

CAROL SAMSON
B.S., University of Kentucky
Typing, General Business

Mrs. Samson often uses the board to illustrate her work in general business class.

ELIZABETH STEPHENS
B.S., Eastern Kentucky State College
Accounting, Office Practice

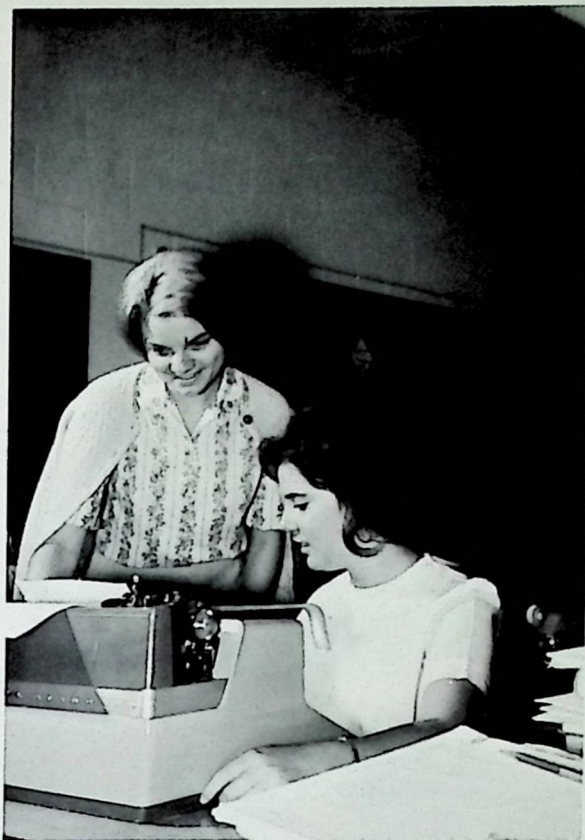

Mr. Brunty gives Johnny Moore a little extra help outside of class.

This is how you add! The adding machine is an important tool in Miss Stephen's accounting class.

Mrs. Taylor explains to Linda Cantrill the importance of neat work.

Miss Back shows Cathy Sheets the correct way to type a business letter.

Mrs. Vickers is often seen at Franklin County. A substitute, here she checks plans with a student teacher.

OBERIA BACK
A.B., University of Kentucky
Typing I, General Business

ELIZABETH TAYLOR
A.B., Georgetown College, M.A., UK
Accounting I, Personal Typing

Social Studies

Social studies form a basis for an understanding of people. World geography and world history provide a basis for understanding the cultures of other nations. United States history, civics, and government teach an appreciation of our own society. Psychology and sociology examine the thought processes of the individual and his relationship to his cultural group. Current events—history in the making—are stressed in all social studies classes.

The American flag seen through the front entrance. Social studies teaches appreciation of American ideals.

A Basis for Understanding

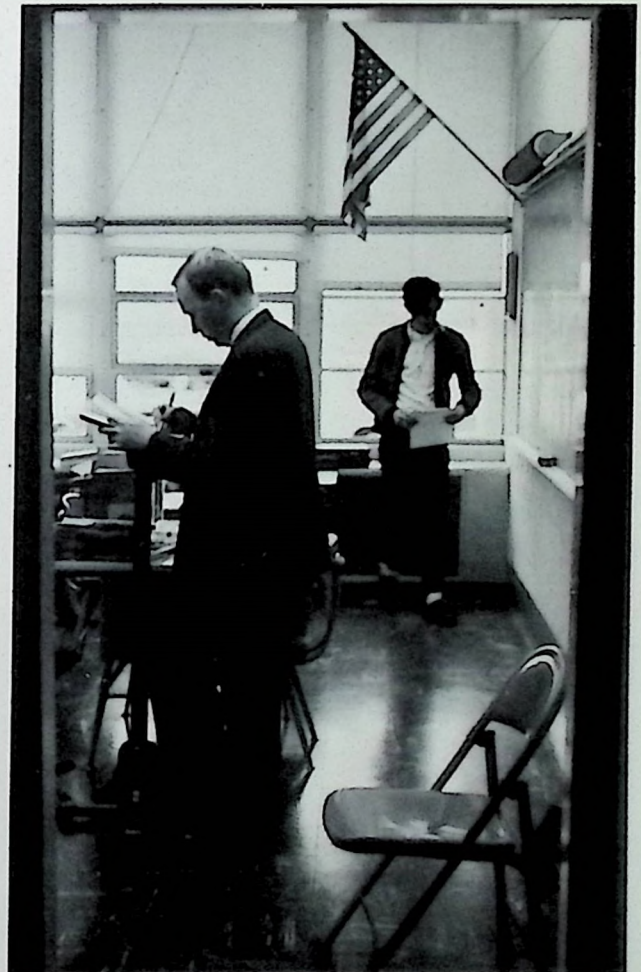

Lecture is the basis method of social studies education. Mr. Roddy is explaining the new Europe formed after World War I.

Mrs. Bruce conducts an audial perception experiment in psychology class.

Mrs. Harrod grades an essay test. Essays are the best way to test a student's ability to discern and relate historical ideas.

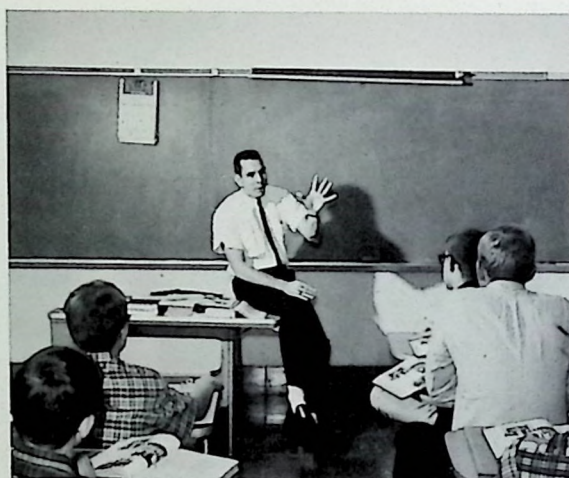

Research into current world problems is a definite part of social studies teaching. Mr. Roach studies for a discussion of the 89th Congress.

Research is an important part of any social studies course. Miss Bogie shows some students where the social studies books are located in the library.

Notes, notes, and more notes! Mr. Fannin never tires of giving extra information.

Fine Arts

FLOYD BRYANT
A.B., Eastern Kentucky State College
Art

Mr. Bryant helps Forrest Banta with his paper mache project.

Mr. Fugett directs the Senior and cadet bands. Franklin County's band is known for its excellence.

Mrs. Schirmer's chorus classes include music appreciation and theory as well as plenty of good singing.

GWEN KETTENACKER
A.B., University of Kentucky
Spanish I

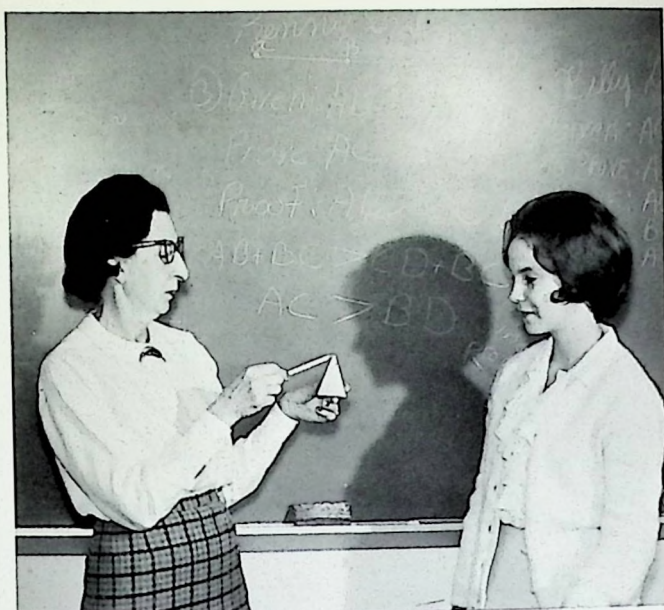

Learning a language is not all vocabulary as is shown in Miss Kettenacker's Spanish class.

Mathematics

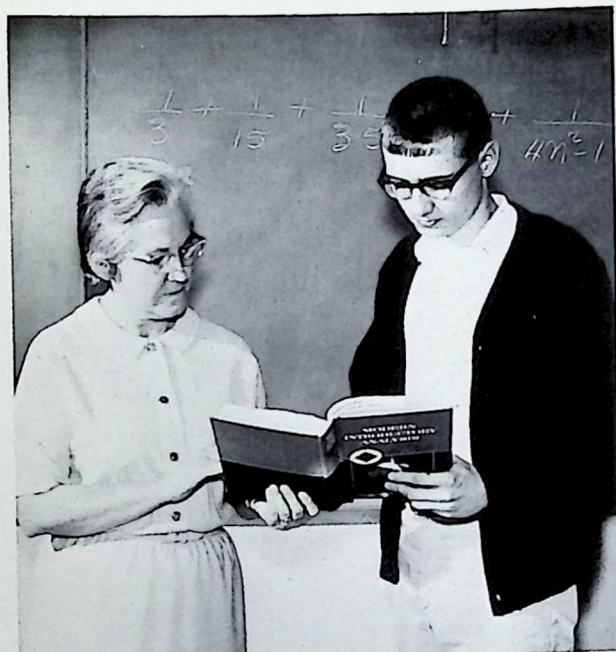

Compasses and other tools are certainly a part of any geometry class.

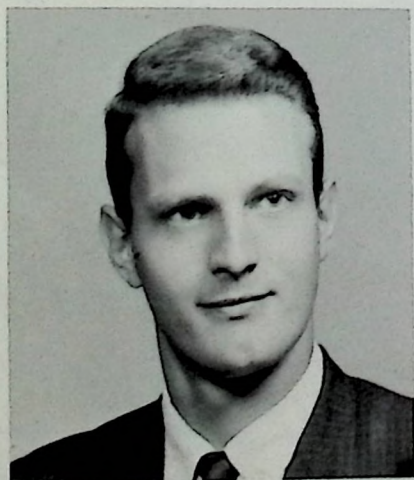

Mrs. Alexander helps this student with solid geometry by showing her a figure.

Proofs are a necessary evil as far as geometry is concerned.

Mrs. Hutchinson, the advanced math teacher, is always ready to give extra help to any student.

Algebra I, General Math

Board drills help students to become more proficient and also develop speed. Mrs. Skeen, a graduate of Berea College, helps students at the board in one of her general math classes.

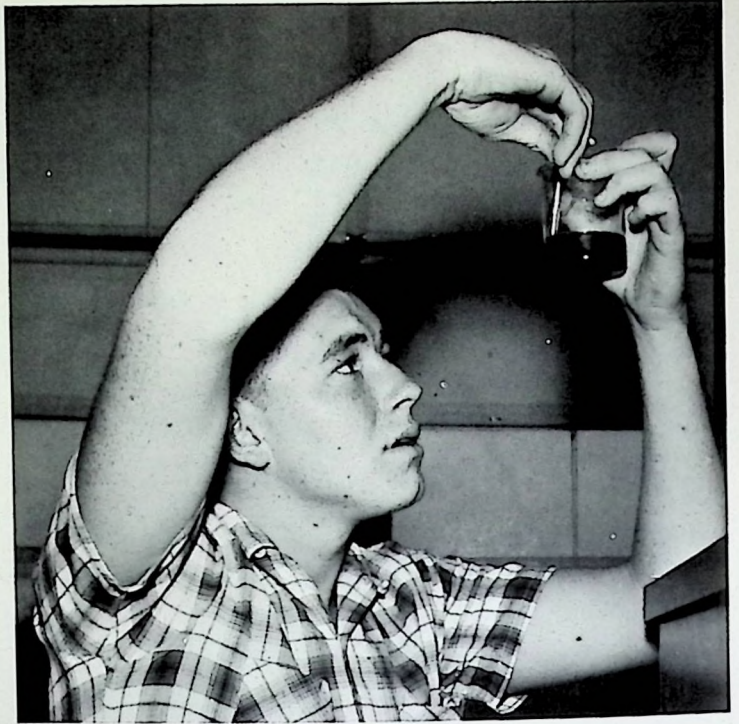

Individual attention always helps a student to learn his subject better.

Elizabeth H. Hutchinson, 2001

Science

Franklin County has three well-equipped science labs—biology, chemistry, and physics. Mrs. Strange prepares distilled water for a chemistry experiment.

The Law of Concentration—probably science's most important law—enables a student's mind to delve into the mysteries of our surroundings.

Science concerns itself with the universe, and everything in it, living or lifeless, and how these living and non-living participants tip the scale in the great balance of nature. Science courses teach an appreciation of this universe through knowledge. Whether it is an understanding of the periodic table or of the structure of a leaf, each unit of knowledge gained through study adds to an awareness of the world around us.

Health and Physical Education

Freshman health and physical education courses teach students the fun that comes from being physically fit. Health emphasizes physical fitness through knowledge of the body and how it works. Physical education teaches health through activity—volleyball, basketball, tumbling, exercises, and track.

Mrs. Johnston is shown in the classroom where much of health education is accomplished.

Another important part of Franklin County's physical education department is its program of driver education. Much of the driver education program is done in the car.

Student Teachers

First semester student teachers: Charlotte Arnall, Pat Stuart, Mary Elizabeth Willett, Valerie Vohard, Nancy Dudgeon, Ruby King, and Judy Sciarce.

Second semester student teachers: Martha Shropshire, Carol Garland, Judy Whitmer, Mary Pitman, David White, James Johnson, Dennis Lehmann, Phil McLaughlin, Doris Evans, Carol Williams, Carole Leu, and Linda Price.

Student teachers are a welcome addition to FCHS classrooms. Young, fresh, and bubbling with enthusiasm and new ideas, they often fascinate their students with their knowledge. Student teachers at Franklin County come from Georgetown College and the University of Kentucky; they leave to go to numerous high schools (although some like us so much that they return to us as teachers). All students join in love and appreciation for our wonderful student teachers.

TODAY

Today while the blossoms still cling to the vine,
I'll taste your strawberries, I'll drink your sweet wine.
A million tomorrows shall all pass away, ere I forget all the joy that is mine today. I'll be a dandy and I'll be a rover, you'll know who I am by the song that I sing.
I'll feast at your table, I'll sleep in your clover who cares what the morrow shall bring.

Today while the blossoms still cling to the vine,
I'll taste your strawberries, I'll drink your sweet wine,
I can't be contented with yesterday's glory, I can't live on promises winter to spring. Today is my moment and now is my story. I'll laugh and I'll cry and I'll sing.

Today while the blossoms still cling to the vine,
I'll taste your strawberries, I'll drink your sweet wine.
A million tomorrows shall all pass away, ere I forget all the joy that is mine today.

Key Club in Action

Every now and then the boys find out something new from interesting speakers.

The Key Club helps with various functions around the school.

Yes, even at 25° the boys delight in parking cars for the games.

"I pledge allegiance to Mr. Roach" the boys go through the patriotic opening services.

The Student Council is a delegated group. A cross-section of students attending Franklin County, the council is the nucleus of the school.

The officers discuss up-coming projects with the sponsor, Mrs. Louis Switzer. They are: Dean Sorg, Pres.; Joe Ewalt, Vice Pres.; Jayne Weiler, Recording Sec.; Helen Frische, Corresponding Sec.; Frances Holt, Treas.; Phil Hodges, Reporter.

Marsha Heaton and Helen Kaye Frisch unpack the new flag for F. C. H. S. which has flown above the national capitol. It was purchased to replace our "well-worn" stars-and-stripes.

This year the Student Council sponsored a Powder-Puff football game to raise money to help some students pay for their books. Here, Doug Davies, chairman of this committee, and Dean Sorg, Council President, discuss these plans with Mrs. Gaines at the bookstore.

Student Council Projects

In co-operation with the Ruritan Club, the Council sold tickets for a benefit chili supper. Mrs. Mitchell is pictured buying a ticket from Ann Harrod who is accompanied by the other top salesmen, Jerry Graves, Marsha Heaton, Jane Davidson, Dale Stevens, and Anita Church.

The Follow-Up Committee, Jere Jewel, chairman, Billy Leach, Cheri Thompson prepare forms—surveys—to send to graduates of F. C. H. S. to see what they are now doing. For each returned form, the Student Council receives a nickel.

NATIONAL MERIT FINALISTS

Barbara Hardy
William Kelley

To reach National Merit Finalist Barbara and William took two difficult, national tests. The National Merit Qualifying Test, taken their junior year, established them as semi-finalists; during their senior year they had to take the SAT, more commonly known as the College Board. Barbara's and William's outstanding performance ranked them among the top 1/2 per cent of the students in the nation who became Finalists.

EDITOR'S MESSAGE

"If at first you don't succeed, try, try, again." This motto will always have a place in my memory because I frequently resorted to it during the frantic moments of copy deadlines, last minute pictures and copy layouts. From working on this yearbook I can always look back to the memory of the cooperative spirit of students, staff, and sponsor in creating the Flyer of 1966. I am aware, that however my "Seed of Knowledge" shall grow, mine will have a more purposeful existence, having worked for the students of Franklin County.

YEARBOOK STAFF

Once upon a time, Greg Marshall took that fateful walk up the stairs and down three doors to the right and came upon that land of oblivion, the yearbook room. Upon reaching his Kingdom, Marshall met with the Chief's-of-Staff in a conference concerning the "Book" that he and his cohorts were planning for May, 1966.

No one uttered a sound (except Karen, who was attempting to learn the keyboard before she began her job as Organizations editor.) Thus Greg proceeded to lay out his plans for the greatest publication Franklin County would ever see.

But just as he began to speak, Carol screeched, "I just lost $20.00! Where could I have spent it?"

Upon hearing her cry, Betty rose up and said, "I cannot tell a lie. I spent it on advertising posters for yearbook sales."

"Thank you," Carol said, relieved, just as Greg was about to speak again. His voice was tired, but he still managed to blurt out, "Hodges! What about the candids?"

As Phil jumped and grabbed his camera, Mary Ella, the faculty editor, carried his film and scurried along to plan some pictures for her section. Doreen and Paula, the Junior and Sophomore editors were busy avoiding the onslaught of that art editor, Gary Eblen, who was making artistic "kick me" signs. Upon seeing this nonsense, Greg commanded that everyone get busy, even Mike, who was fighting with Gail over whether there should be more pages of football players or more of cheerleaders.

Jere Fran, having arranged her senior pictures in alphabetical order, was ready to suggest that everyone leave, when Ann, throwing her books on a table screamed, "Notice from Taylor!—deadline's Friday!" Kendell and Rendell sighed "Not another one!"

Pens were hurried, pictures were snapped, books were valanced, and then it was all over. The staff walked out for the last time—successful and proud, the FLYER was finished.

Drum Major

These ten girls are an active part of the band and were considered a valuable asset during marching season. Mrs. Joan Johnston is the sponsor of the majorettes and has been a competent advisor to the girls throughout the year. There are ten girls on the majorette squad, which includes nine regulars and an alternate. The alternate, Susan Elswick, has frequently performed with the squad and is always there to lend a helping baton.

Homecoming activities begin with a motorcade through downtown Frankfort.

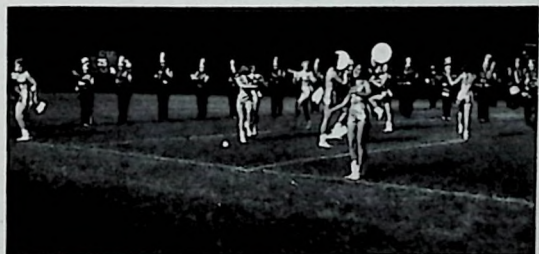

The highlight of the half-time festivities is the crowning of the Homecoming Queen. This year's queen, Jane Weiler, is being congratulated by co-captains Pete Campassi and Dickie Manuel.

Homecoming

Queen Jane is escorted on the field by the football co-captains.

During the half-time festivities the F.C.H.S. band performs and the majorettes present a special program with fire batons.

An Annual Highlight

The finale to the homecoming activities is the dance following the game. The theme for the 1965 Homecoming Dance was "Football Fantasy."

COACH JOHN LYKINS

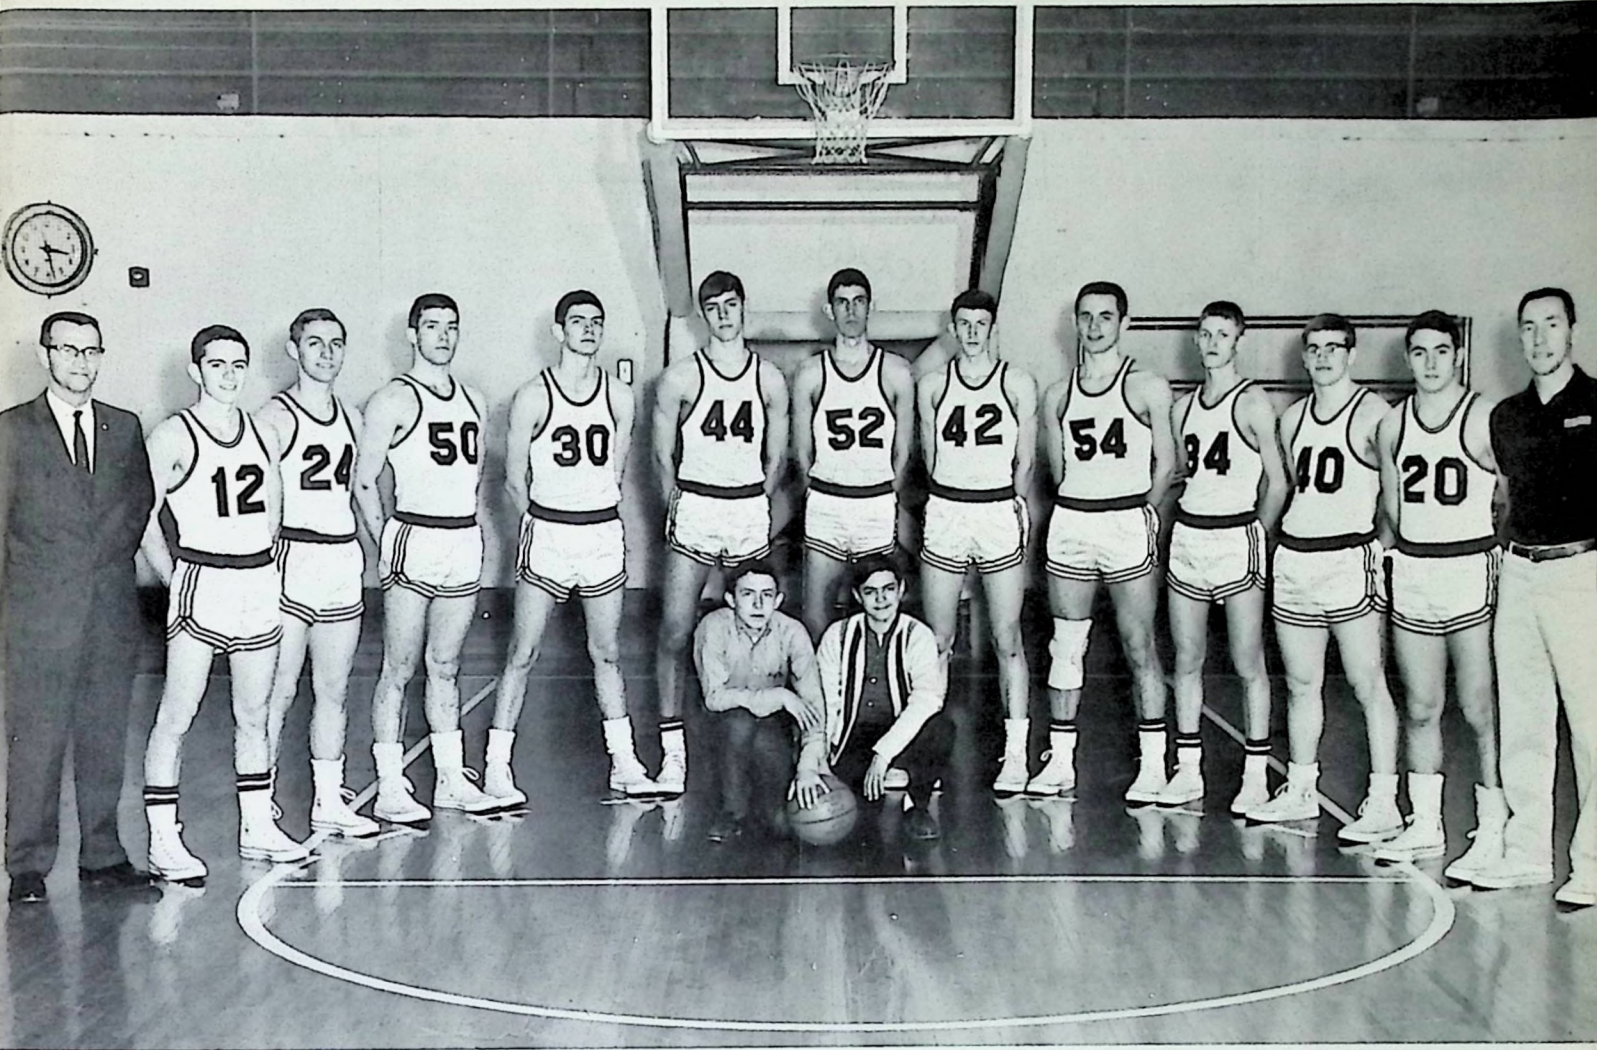

COACH FLOYD BRYANT
Freshman Coach

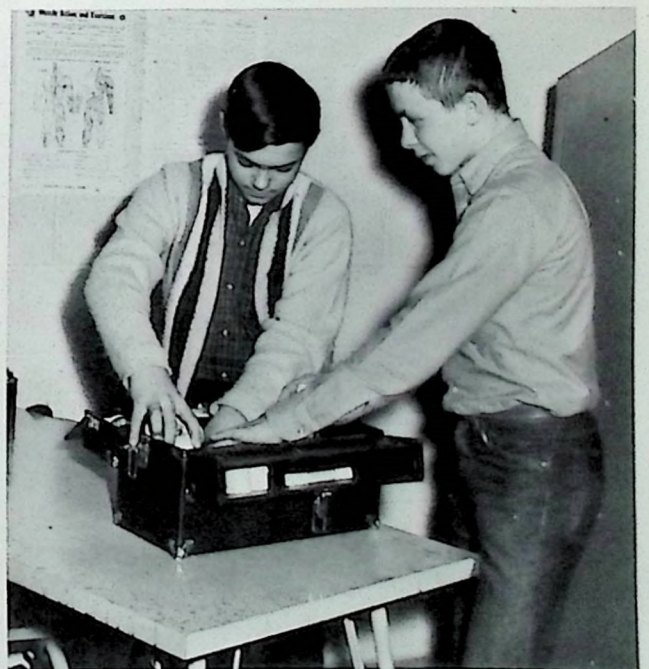

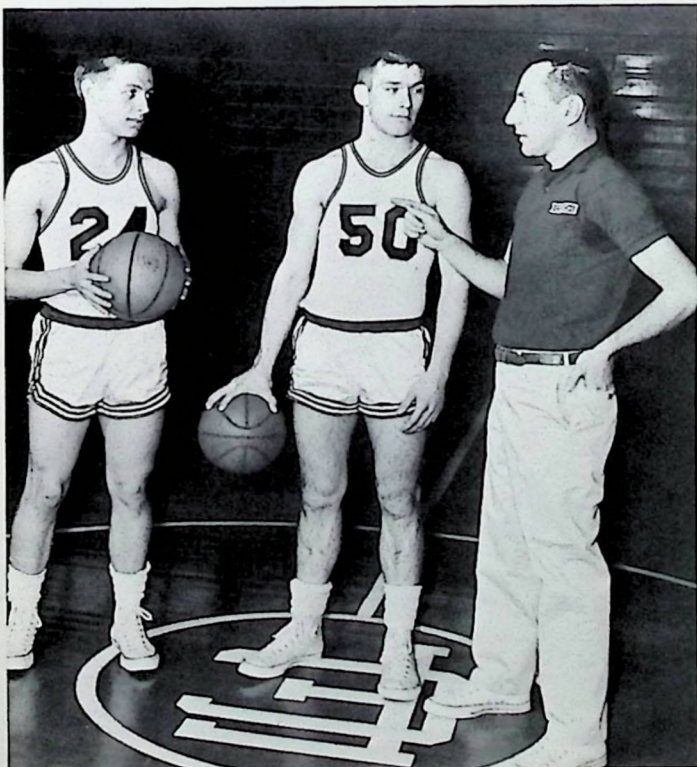

This is Coach John Lykins' first year at Franklin County High School, but we know it will not be his last. Franklin County spectators have known Mr. Lykins as the coach to beat, since he was the coach at Frankfort High School for four years. Last year he worked with the University of Kentucky's basketball team and scouted many games for Coach Rupp.

This year's team consisted of three sophomores and two seniors and we feel that he has done an excellent job.
